

Unmasking Nature: Walking Tour

Deep dive into Energy Stories of Dublin

Know Before You Go

Beta Festival, 6 Oct 2026, 13:00-14:30

Walking Tour

	Unmasking Nature Tour: Deep dive into Energy Stories of Dublin Friday 6 November 13:00 - 14:30
	Join us for a storytelling walking tour. You will learn about the history of power in Dublin. You will discover what powers Dublin today and imagine what could power our future.
	The tour is led by Codema, Dublin's Energy Agency. Codema's goal is to improve life in Dublin by transforming how we produce and use energy.
	The tour is free but you should book a place. Booking link

We will meet to start the tour at St. Patrick's Tower

There will be ISL interpretation of the tour.

This is a Relaxed Event you can leave whenever you need to, or take breaks.

The tour will be an outdoor tour in fresh air.

Please dress for the weather.

If you need Audio Description assistance you can tell us this when you book your place.

This tour will be in Dublin City Centre so the streets could be busy.

Surfaces might be uneven.

If there is anything else we can do to make this tour more accessible for you, you can tell us when you book your place.

For questions you can contact studio@alanjamesburns.com